

Publish Your Ed Tech Book with ISTE!

ISTE is a leading publisher of books about educational technology. Our authors are teachers, teacher educators, technology specialists, administrators, and educational leaders who believe deeply in the effective use of technology in PK–12 education.

Do you have a book idea that might be right for ISTE? Visit our online bookstore, www.iste.org/bookstore, and take a look at some of our books. We are particularly interested in books on the following topics as they apply to PK–12 education and teacher education:

- Interactive whiteboards
- Gaming
- Social networks
- Blogs
- Wikis
- Podcasting
- Tablet PCs
- Open-source software
- Assistive technologies
- Virtual schools
- Technology in the sciences

For guidelines on submitting a book proposal, write to Jeff Bolkan, jbolkan@iste.org. We look forward to hearing from you!

Announcing ISTE's latest line of books

ISTE is pleased to announce the launch of HomePage Books, a new publishing venture designed to introduce the concepts, issues, and opportunities behind today's classroom technology to the parents of today's tech-savvy students. It's time to get parents and teachers on the same page—HomePage.

ISTE is now accepting proposals for our HomePage Books line. Write to Jeff Bolkan, jbolkan@iste.org, for more information.
